

ACS Risk Group Training Courses 2019

The Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and associated Regulations require employers to provide employees with adequate and appropriate information, instruction and training across a range of Health & Safety topics.

The ACS training programme is designed to help employers discharge these legal responsibilities through the provision of 'general' and 'topic-specific' Health & Safety training courses and workshops.

We are running the following courses at our Training Academy in Glasgow and can also provide this, and other, training at your own premises. If the below dates are not suitable, please feel free to contact us to discuss alternative options.
