

We are delighted to be returning to the DoubleTree by Hilton, Dunblane Hydro in May for our Annual Conference, and we are actively encouraging bookings from any and all governing body, management, or staff team members – everyone is welcome!

Our latest speaker announcement is Television and Radio Presenter personality Des Clarke, who will be joining us as a keynote speaker over the weekend to share his experiences of generational challenges and change. You may recognise his voice from the Breakfast Show on Heart Radio which he hosts every weekday morning. Don't miss the opportunity to hear Des give his unique and insightful perspective on our theme.

Today's typical workplace can include five different generations working together, bringing varying expectations, challenges and opportunities for employers and their workers/volunteers. Book now for the EVH Annual Conference to hear from speakers who will share their knowledge and insights across many avenues of this fascinating subject.

It'll be nice
to see you,
to see you...

If you are new to our conference, we think it worth mentioning that we never miss the opportunity to provide some first-class entertainment and networking too across the weekend. It can't all be work after all!

The EVH Executive know that budgets are tight and have once again agreed to keep costs as low as they can go for this event, genuinely bringing you the best possible value for your money. Single rooms are £785 per person and double/twin rooms are £685 per person. See booking form for all the details.

Contact Events@evh.org.uk with any queries

To book your place complete the attached booking form.