

Making Sense of Finance for Governing Body Members

Are you a Governing Body member who is at times uncertain when it comes to the tricky area of finance, and how you can effectively engage and challenge on this topic when required to in your role? Then this rarely available session is for you.

Most importantly, financial terminology being used in this essential session will be in Plain English. It has been specially designed for board members, with important financial concepts being explored, and unhelpful jargon exposed and debunked! All with a view to helping delegates better understand how best to approach their own role in this vital business area.

Phil Morrice, Managing Partner with Alexander Sloan will lead this session. He will treat us to current hot topics in finance and alert us to some of the more important forthcoming developments.

This is a hybrid event with delegates able to attend online via Zoom or in Betty's Room with the opportunity to network over a tea or coffee before the session.
